Bugs/fixes:
The calendar page does not load until the database has been refreshed.

If a user clicks anywhere in the navbar then they will be redirected to the homepage. We will solve this issue by figuring out what is causing the navbar to redirect the user to the homepage. We suspect it is an issue with how we setup react router.

There are currently ways to navigate to the chat page still. We have cut the chat page but have not yet removed all paths to it from the project. We will resolve this issue by finding new places to direct the user instead of the chat page, or removing the links entirely.

The CSS is slightly broken now that we have included react-router in the project. We will go through the CSS and components and clean up the conflicting CSS.

Cut Features:

The chat page has been cut due to it's complexity and the time requirement the team is trying to meet.
